BOOMERANG PARENTAL CONTROL ADDS BEDTIME SCHEDULES FOR IOS DEVICES

(Vancouver, Canada) – National Education Technologies Inc. (NETi) has introduced a highly requested feature in its Boomerang Parental Control solution for iOS devices: bedtime schedules! This new feature allows parents to configure bedtime schedules for their kids' iOS devices, as well as instantly time-out or grant time to their child's devices via their device in our unique Parent Mode.

"This has been a sought-after feature of our users" said Justin Payeur, Product Evangelist and COO of NETi. "It was especially frustrating for parents that switched their child's device from an Android device to an iOS device and wondered where the screen-time feature went!"

NETi continues its commitment to innovating Boomerang Parental Control. Boomerang for iOS is currently free for one year as part of an introductory promotion. One of our recent users said:

I would definitely recommend this app. This parental control app has made so many improvements that I can say I'm impressed. Please continue to keep up the awesome improvements. By far the best.

Available now, parents can download Boomerang Parental Control from the App Store and Google's Play Store.
